

To Whom It May Concern:I thought we lived in the land of the free. The land of free enterprise! If someone decide to sell a service that doesn't present harm to the public, why would the Gov't try to stop free enterprise? I as a subscriber decided to pay my fees to have this service, XM didn't put a gun to my head and force me.

Maybe there is more to this than meets the eyes, and it should be all put on the table for all to decide.
